

PSHE

Long Term Curriculum Map

Whole School Scheme of Learning

Intent: This is what we want for your child.

At Barley Fields Primary, we provide a warm, safe and happy environment where children can freely share and learn from their experiences. It is our intention that the children will understand their rights (UNCRC) and their responsibility to uphold these. We want the children to know how to be safe in the different situations they will face throughout their lives and how to develop and maintain healthy relationships. We strive to ensure our children can make informed decisions as safe, responsible citizens with a focus on the online world they navigate each day, both socially and within school. We encourage our children to play a positive role in contributing to the life of the school and the wider community. In so doing we help develop their sense of self-worth. We teach them how society is organised and governed. We ensure that the children experience the process of democracy through participation in the election and running of the school council.

We believe that developing a growth mindset in our children will help them to build resilience, independence and confidence; embrace challenge; and foster a love of learning. We aim to ensure that our children enter Key Stage 3 with confidence, high aspirations and a belief in themselves. Throughout their primary school journey, we strive to instil the importance of understanding the protected characteristics in the world our children are growing up in. We intend that children learn to appreciate what it means to be a positive member of a diverse and multicultural society. We will prepare them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life and as a result, our children will be able to play a positive and successful role in today's society.

Implementation: This is what it will look like in the classroom.

Our children follow a carefully structured PSHE curriculum designed to progressively enhance their understanding of the world and to provide them with the skills to know how to keep safe and healthy. Our bespoke PSHE curriculum promotes discussion, encourages self-respect and helps to develop global citizens.

Our PSHE Curriculum follows a sequence of teaching that progressively builds and revisits our three key strands:

- Health and Wellbeing
- Relationships

- Living in the Wider World

At Barley Fields Primary School, we recognise the importance of building strong relationships built on mutual respect. By revisiting the three main themes across each year group, children consolidate the key skills needed to stay safe; develop and maintain positive relationships and to be active citizens in the wider world.

We have written our curriculum, not only within the Government guidelines, but also considering the personalised needs of our children. Our curriculum incorporates the Rights Respecting Schools Agenda, Global Goals, a Growth Mindset approach, British Values and an understanding of the Protected Characteristics. These are all integral parts of our school ethos. Our approach to PSHE starts in Early Years and progresses across school.

Unlike other curriculum subjects, PSHE is not taught in discreet blocks. PSHE is delivered weekly by the class teacher to ensure our key areas and topical themes, often identified through Picture News, can be addressed promptly. The delivery of the curriculum, through detailed curriculum plans, allows for adaptive teaching and gives teachers the skills and expertise to teach and deliver bespoke sessions to each class. Our lessons are focused on debate, discussion and circle time. We understand the importance of children having a positive and purposeful PSHE curriculum by giving each child a voice and ensuring their views and ideas can be heard.

At Barley Fields Primary School, we encourage and guide our children to play a positive role in contributing to our school and the wider community. We encourage the children to take part in a range of tasks that promote active citizenship, for example charity fundraising, the planning of special school events (such as an assembly or open evening), or involvement in helping other individuals or groups less fortunate than themselves. We organise classes in such a way that children are able, through discussion, to set agreed classroom rules of behaviour, and resolve any conflicts. Assembly themes are closely linked to PSHE, Rights Respecting Schools, British Values and SMSC and incorporate additional sessions that benefit the whole school as required. Our community-based visitors give children the support and expertise to stay safe in our local area – focusing on areas we know are relevant to our children. We provide our children with opportunities for them to learn about rights and responsibilities and to appreciate what it means to be a member of the diverse society in which we live. Visitors such as the emergency services; first aid workshops; pedestrian safety and Careers Week complement and strengthen our PSHE curriculum to offer additional learning opportunities that enrich children's experiences. We want our children to be safe, keep safe and teach them how to stay safe.

Our school curriculum character for PSHE, Serena the Citizen, has been designed to represent the curriculum end points as children progress through school. Our children are regularly exposed the core skills and knowledge to support them in becoming a positive member of the community and the wider world.

Early Years
Personal, Social and Emotional
Serena the Citizen

- ✓ I like trying new activities.
- ✓ I can explain the reasons for rules, know right from wrong and try to behave accordingly.
- ✓ I work and play cooperatively and take turns with others.
- ✓ I show an understanding of my own feelings and those of others.

Key Stage 1
Serena the Citizen

- ✓ I know what makes me special and unique.
- ✓ I can talk about what it means to be healthy and about different ways to keep healthy.
- ✓ I am starting to identify different feelings I may experience and I can recognise and name them.
- ✓ I can talk about the people who care for me and I know that families can be different.
- ✓ I can recognise what makes a good friend and I understand that feelings can be hurt by actions and words.
- ✓ I know how to keep myself safe in the real world and the online world.
- ✓ I know about rules and why they are needed.
- ✓ I know what it means to be a good member of my local community.
- ✓ I know the difference between needs and wants and the value and importance of money.

Key Stage 2
Serena the Citizen

- ✓ I can make informed decisions about my own health and wellbeing.
- ✓ I know that mental health is just as important as physical health.
- ✓ I know about personal identity and what contributes to who we are.
- ✓ I recognise that there are different types of relationships in the real and online world.
- ✓ I know about the importance of friendships and I can talk about strategies for building positive friendships.
- ✓ I know about the impact of bullying, including off and online bullying, and the impact this has on individuals.
- ✓ I recognise the reasons for rules and laws and the consequences for not adhering to them.
- ✓ I know about the different groups that make up a community and what living in a community means.
- ✓ I recognise people make spending decisions based on priorities, needs and wants and these decisions can affect others and the environment.

Impact: This is what it will mean for our children.

The impact of our PSHE curriculum is that children are able to make appropriate decisions in a range of everyday scenarios, helping to shape them into happy, healthy, confident and independent members of the community.

Our PSHE curriculum and our teaching and learning pedagogy leads to children who are able to:

- Approach a range of real-life situations and apply their skills and attributes to help navigate themselves through modern life
- Recognise and apply the British values of Democracy, Tolerance, Mutual respect, Rule of Law and Liberty
- Recognise their rights as a child, protected characteristics and environmental issues linked to our global goals
- Look after their mental health and well-being
- Understand and manage their emotions to keep themselves and others safe
- Appreciate difference and diversity
- Develop positive, healthy relationships with their peers both now and in the future
- Access the internet safely, recognising the impact of their online footprint

We are proud that every child will have access to a high-quality, sequenced and adaptive PSHE curriculum throughout their journey at Barley Fields. We are proud that our PSHE curriculum promotes a respectful environment within the classroom, accessible to every child.

Families and people who care for me	Pupils should know - that families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability. - the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives. - that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care. - that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up. - that marriage represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong. - how to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed.
Caring friendships	Pupils should know - how important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends. - the characteristics of friendships, including mutual respect, truthfulness, trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, trust, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties. - that healthy friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded. - that most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened, and that resorting to violence is never right. - how to recognise who to trust and who not to trust, how to judge when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, managing conflict, how to manage these situations and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed.
Respectful relationships	Pupils should know - the importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs. - practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships. - the conventions of courtesy and manners. - the importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness. - that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including those in positions of authority.
Online relationships	Pupils should know - that people sometimes behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not. - that the same principles apply to online relationships as to face-to face relationships, including the importance of respect for others online including when we are anonymous. - the rules and principles for keeping safe online, how to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how to report them. - how to critically consider their online friendships and sources of information including awareness of the risks associated with people they have never met. - how information and data is shared and used online.

Being safe	Pupils should know • what sorts of boundaries are appropriate in friendships with peers and others (including in a digital context). • about the concept of privacy and the implications of it for both children and adults; including that it is not always right to keep secrets if they relate to being safe. • that each person's body belongs to them, and the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe physical, and other, contact. • how to respond safely and appropriately to adults they may encounter (in all contexts, including online) whom they do not know. • how to recognise and report feelings of being unsafe or feeling bad about any adult. • how to ask for advice or help for themselves or others, and to keep trying until they are heard. • how to report concerns or abuse, and the vocabulary and confidence needed to do so. • where to get advice e.g. family, school and/or another source
Sex Education	Pupils should know • Puberty • Knowledge of the human lifecycle
Mental Wellbeing	Pupils should know • that mental wellbeing is a normal part of daily life, in the same way as physical health. • that there is a normal range of emotions (e.g. happiness, sadness, anger, fear, surprise, nervousness) and scale of emotions that all humans experience in relation to different experiences and situations. • how to recognise and talk about their emotions, including having a varied vocabulary of words to use when talking about their own and others' feelings. • how to judge whether what they are feeling and how they are behaving is appropriate and proportionate. • the benefits of physical exercise, time outdoors, community participation, voluntary and service-based activity on mental wellbeing and happiness. • simple self-care techniques, including the importance of rest, time spent with friends and family and the benefits of hobbies and interests. • isolation and loneliness can affect children and that it is very important for children to discuss their feelings with an adult and seek support. • that bullying (including cyberbullying) has a negative and often lasting impact on mental wellbeing. • where and how to seek support (including recognising the triggers for seeking support), including whom in school they should speak to if they are worried about their own or someone else's mental wellbeing or ability to control their emotions (including issues arising online). • it is common for people to experience mental ill health. For many people who do, the problems can be resolved if the right support is made available, especially if accessed early enough.
Internet safety and harms	Pupils should know • that for most people the internet is an integral part of life and has many benefits. • about the benefits of rationing time spent online, the risks of excessive time spent on electronic devices and the impact of positive and negative content online on their own and others' mental and physical wellbeing. • how to consider the effect of their online actions on others and know how to recognise and display respectful behaviour online and the importance of keeping personal information private. • why social media, some computer games and online gaming, for example, are age restricted. • that the internet can also be a negative place where online abuse, trolling, bullying and harassment can take place, which can have a negative impact on mental health.

	• how to be a discerning consumer of information online including understanding that information, including that from search engines, is ranked, selected and targeted. • • where and how to report concerns and get support with issues online.
Physical health and fitness	Pupils should know • the characteristics and mental and physical benefits of an active lifestyle. • the importance of building regular exercise into daily and weekly routines and how to achieve this; for example, walking or cycling to school, a daily active mile or other forms of regular, vigorous exercise. • the risks associated with an inactive lifestyle (including obesity). • • how and when to seek support including which adults to speak to in school if they are worried about their health.
Healthy eating	Pupils should know • what constitutes a healthy diet (including understanding calories and other nutritional content). • the principles of planning and preparing a range of healthy meals. • • the characteristics of a poor diet and risks associated with unhealthy eating (including, for example, obesity and tooth decay) and other behaviours (e.g. the impact of alcohol on diet or health).
Drugs, alcohol and tobacco	Pupils should know • • the facts about legal and illegal harmful substances and associated risks, including smoking, alcohol use and drug-taking.
Health and prevention	Pupils should know • how to recognise early signs of physical illness, such as weight loss, or unexplained changes to the body. • about safe and unsafe exposure to the sun, and how to reduce the risk of sun damage, including skin cancer. • the importance of sufficient good quality sleep for good health and that a lack of sleep can affect weight, mood and ability to learn. • about dental health and the benefits of good oral hygiene and dental flossing, including regular check-ups at the dentist. • about personal hygiene and germs including bacteria, viruses, how they are spread and treated, and the importance of handwashing. • • the facts and science relating to allergies, immunisation and vaccination.
Basic first aid	Pupils should know: • how to make a clear and efficient call to emergency services if necessary. • • concepts of basic first-aid, for example dealing with common injuries, including head injuries.
My changing adolescent body	Pupils should know: • key facts about puberty and the changing adolescent body, particularly from age 9 through to age 11, including physical and emotional changes. • • about menstrual wellbeing including the key facts about the menstrual cycle.
